In 2003 our son, Kirby, was diagnosed with Autism. We began then on a journey to help him to exceed expectations and have a bright future. Fortunately, we discovered a therapy called RDI (Relationship Developmental Intervention, www.rdiconnect.com) and have since been amazed in his growth and progress! In 2007 we began to consider how we could help support research in the field of autism. We decided to host a golf tournament and have since become an official nonprofit organization. Fortunately, we became involved with FARR. The Foundation for Autism Research and Remediation, known as FARR (www.farrsite.org) supports research which explores innovative treatments for autism and examines quality of life outcomes for individuals with autism. Over the past four years our tournaments have raised over $80,000, which has already funded ongoing research studies through FARR. We are excited to announce the Fifth Annual "Hit it FARR for Kirby" Golf Classic. Please partner with us as we support important quality of life outcomes based research, as we aim to support the families living and dealing with autism every day. Together we can give others their hope back. We can support the efforts of those looking for a better life for our children, a better vision for our future, and a hope for all of those affected by Autism Spectrum Disorders. All proceeds from this event will go directly to fund ongoing research and education in the field of autism
